ایک شفقت بھرے معاشرے کا تصور

I AM AQSA PARVEZ!

When I was only 2 years old, God chose me to step into a world of hope where I was nurtured to share a vision of seeing this world as a compassionate place.

I was incubated in a small and cozy place which was a safe haven for another 19 toddlers besides me.

Love was always in the air.

We were instilled with empathy and ownership for everything around us.

LOVE WAS ALWAYS IN THE AIR

I am from the first batch of the Ibtedai school . After 2 years of nurturing I found admission in a mainstream school of Karachi where I flourished well. I was always commented by my teachers for my ability to think and ponder.

Later I shifted to Dawood Public School where I chose Humanities subjects in ninth grade.

I have the passion to bring change at policy level of my country and hence I aspire to reach a position in life where I can do so.

I want to enter Politics. However I want to first do Law and then attempt CSS.

I WAS ALWAYS COMMENTED BY MY TEACHERS FOR MY ABILITY TO THINK AND PONDER.

I have had this passion since I was a little girl. I strongly feel that Allah has given me this sensitive nature and the gift to empathise for a bigger reason. I feel I am born to be a leader. I was born in Lyari for a bigger cause. The injustice, violence and apathy that prevails in my society makes me stay up nights. I can't wait to become old enough to do something about it. For now I feel I need to concentrate on building myself emotionally, mentally, socially and academically so that I can fulfil my dreams once I am old enough, with the right credentials in hand.

I want to see this world as a place where every child has hope to shine to their best potential.

I WAS BORN IN LYARI FOR A BIGGER CAUSE

I feel a fire burns within me that has flames which can eradicate injustice, abuse and unfair dealings that are taking place in our community. I personally faced a lot myself being a girl.

I love singing, that's my best past time and soul feed. However I am judged for it. I sometimes get disappointed and feel very sad about this. I personally faced coming blaspheming comments for singing English songs without understanding the words or the talent in me, judgments are passed. These are people in my surroundings but my parents are supportive. I know they have been able to see the talent harnessed inside me, sometimes they have to take the bashing of the comments for me, which truly hurts. I have learned to break barriers at a very young age and hence I kept singing until one day I reached all Karachi singing competition.

I HAVE LEARNED TO BREAK BARRIERS AT A VERY YOUNG AGE

I could never have reached here without the support of my parents and Kiran.

I stood third in the competition!

Later I was selected to sing in a concert in front of music stars. For me Kiran is a great place of limitless bounties and opportunities. It has transformed me into a confident person who knows how to protect herself and is ready to give back to the community.

I envision a compassionate society and can't wait to fulfil Sabbi ma's dream to become the successor of Kiran. She has nurtured us and reminds us almost everyday that Kiran is ours and we have to become become capable enough to be the next board of directors of Kiran Foundation.

I want to strive for the cause of education and to enlighten this place with love, peace and harmony

I believe that the present and the NOW needs most of our attention. The opportunities are endless and God has made this universe for us to explore.

I have started out armed with my dreams and am anchored to my roots of perseverance.

Now I will write my own fate by the strength of my will and with help of Allah Pak.

I believe that Allah has made us complete and we hold our destinies in our hands. I will never look back towards bitter moments of yesterday because there is no use of over thinking on what is bygone.

I WANT TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE
