I AM HAMMAD!

I am a proud Habibian and an ever prouder ambassador of Kiran foundation. I am not a very high achiever but I try to balance my life with good academics, great fitness and even greater free thinking abilities.

I have been the captain of my school football team and I enjoy pencil sketching as a therapy.

I am a free thinker and I believe putting my thoughts into action.

I make goals with every intention to achieve them.

I was 2.5 when I got enrolled in Kiran Ibtedai along with my mother. It changed our life completely.

I MAKE GOALS WITH EVERY INTENTION TO ACHIEVE THEM.

My mother is the only active parent I saw. My father gave up on himself and on us. He ran from his problems leaving a women with 4 kids alone in this terrible world. My greatest inspiration is my mother. She never gave up on us. She never gave up on herself either.

My mother's struggles were mine too. Seeing her go through rejection and loneliness was traumatic for me too. She worked day and night for us to have a comfortable life. She had strong believe in Allah tala that things will become easier.

MY GREATEST INSPIRATION IS MY MOTHER.

People tell me that I am a well balanced and mindful kid, this is only because of my mother and the full support of Kiran. Sabbi maa stood by us in thin and thick helped us heal us to heal from our traumas physically, emotionally and mentally.

It intimidates me to think about the struggles my mother was going through. Above that it haunts me to think that there might be more women in situation like my mother's but they may give up on their own life and their children. I believe that mother was able to do what my father couldn't.

I AM A WELL BALANCED AND MINDFUL KID.

I see my mother as the strongest woman in this world and I believe that every mother is as strong. They only need to believe in themselves and never give up. I consider myself as a feminist because I am in awe of the power of women. I respect women more than any other limboing creature on this earth. I want to be a strong advocate for women's rights and freedom. I want to play my part in empowering them to be enough within themselves.

I want to conclude by saying that we should never give up no matter how hard the situation is, always believe that something beautiful is going to happen. And also never hesitate to ask for help if at any point you feel you are lost. It takes a lot of courage to agree that you don't have answers to everything.

ASKING IS THE KEY TO KNOWLEDGE.
